HONGKONG, 29th June, 1903.

THE statement which Lord CRANBORN made in the House of Commons last week, as mentioned in REUTER'S despatch of the 25th instant, is not likely to reassure anyone with regard to the position in Manchuria. According to the Under-Secretary for Foreign Affairs, the Chinese Government has intimated that arrangements between China and Russia are being negotiated which will preserve Manchuria for China without loss of sovereignty, the treaty rights of other Powers being respected. The idea cannot for a moment be entertained that this implies any change of attitude on the part of the Chinese Government which will compel Russia to act up to the spirit of her promises about Manchuria. China's assurances remain of equal value to what they have borne in the past, and as before it rests with others than China to secure any future for Manchuria than that of a mere province of Asiatic Russia. These "others than China" have all along been three Powers only, Great Britain, Japan, and the United States. Of these the United States have been a doubtful quantity, and we cannot feel reassured when we read in the latest number which has reached us of the San Francisco Chronicle a statement like the following:—"So far as the trade interests of the United States in Manchuria are concerned, it is decidedly preferable for the territory to be in Russian hands. When China was in undisputed control our trade there was indifferent and the "prospects were not good for any improvement under her administration of affairs." "Since Russia has been in temporary control our trade there has steadily increased. If the country is restored to China our commerce with it will probably dwindle to what it was formerly." "If, on the other hand, Russia uses the 'new disorders' as an excuse for asserting permanent sovereignty over it, we will have no valid cause for complaint, for 'the country's resources will be developed and our trade will be materially benefited by the change.' Our San Francisco contemporary evidently has full faith in Russia's bona-fides. We should not be surprised, however, if owing to friction between the United States and Russia over the Kicheneff affair, the temporarily pro-Russian organs in the States were to modify their views with regard to a pious acceptance of the annexation of Manchuria to the dominions of the Tsar. With regard to the other two Powers chiefly interested, there has never been any doubt that Japan is not prepared to see Manchuria Russianised without any compensation to herself, whilst the return of Sir ERNEST SATOW to his post as H.B.M.'s Minister at Peking suggests the hope that Great Britain will also obtain some strong guarantees with regard to the administration of Manchuria and the maintenance of the present state of affairs in North China. We cannot yet, it is evident, expect a speedy settlement of the Manchurian question. It has already been 'settled' on paper half a dozen times, but that means nothing.

ANNEXED to the Principal Civil Medical Officer's report on Hongkong for 1902 is a smaller report by Dr. J. C. THOMSON, the medical officer in charge of the Infectious Diseases Hospital at Kennedy Town, in which certain observations are to be found on the local use of anti-plague serum in plague cases. As Dr. Thomson remarks, during the 1902 epidemic anti-plague serum was for the first time available. Now, as is familiar to all who have followed the recent history of plague-fighting, this method of attempting to combat the disease has received a great deal of attention lately. Therefore the application of the method here must necessarily be watched with interest. The serum employed in Hongkong last year was obtained in monthly instalments from Paris and was used systematically throughout the epidemic in accordance with the recommendations of the Pasteur Institute in the French capital, due allowance being made in the administration of the serum for age, sex, and other circumstances. In spite of this, Dr. Thomson writes, the mortality from plague in 1902 was 85.11 per cent. In 1900 it was 77.5 and in 1901 73.5 per cent. This increase of mortality he regards as an accidental circumstance in the consideration of a comparatively small number of cases. But, he continues in his report, the anti-plague serum supplied to Hongkong from Paris is manifestly useless—possibly through deterioration from lapse of time and exposure to a hot temperature. Dr. Thomson has suggested to the Government that it would be well to prepare locally a supply of anti-plague serum in good time for the next probable recurrence of the disease. This, he says, has been authorised, the Government Bacteriologist having the matter in hand. Whether this means that during the next closing epidemic the new serum has been employed, we cannot say; but, whenever they are forthcoming, the results from the suggestion of Dr. Thomson will be looked forward to with extreme interest.

The appointment is notified in the Gazette of the Hon. Dr. Ho Kai and the Rev. T. W. Pearce as members of the Board of Examiners of Interpreters.

Five cases of plague were reported during the 24 hours ended at noon on Saturday, and one of these was an European from H.M.S. Espergle—James Collins by name. Another was an Indian (fatal) and the remaining three were Chinese (all fatal). Two bodies of Chinese were damped. The total number of cases since the commencement of the year is 1,276.

A meeting of Justices of the Peace will be held at the Magistracy on Friday, the 18th prox., for the purpose of considering the application of Hans Peter Jertrum for the transfer of his publican's licence to sell and retail intoxicating liquor on the premises situated at Nos. 266 and 268, Queen's Road Central, under the sign of the "German Tavern," to Paul Wissing.

The following is the programme of music to be played by the band of the 14th Bombay Infantry on the New Parade Ground to-day from 5 to 6.30 p.m. (weather permitting):—March—"Festive March in D." Smart Overture—"Eivissa." "Nos Bonnes Gaudes Village." "Zibuka." "The Flying Dutchman." Wagner. "Moroccan Mignon." "Salut d'Amour." Elgar. Selection—"La Fille de Madame Angot." Leocoy. Romance Sans Paroles—"Simple Aveu." T. Monc. "God Save the King."

The Hongkong rainfall for the twenty-four hours ending at 10.30 a.m. yesterday was 13.63 inches.

The Manila Times says:—"The plague is raging in Hongkong. The residents of that city should take a run over to Manila during the hot season"—and catch cholera we suppose.

L'Echo de Chine's Fochow correspondent accuses the American missionaries at that port of land-grabbing and other improper acts. Such accusations, founded or unfounded, are not likely to help much the cause of Christianity in China.

The launch Jeannette, built for the P. & O. Company by the Dock Company at Hongkong, was launched on Saturday morning. The Jeannette's dimensions are—Length, 82 feet; breadth, 15 feet; and depth, 7 feet. Her draught is 5 feet 4 inches, and speed 10 knots. She is fitted with a W. P. 150 boiler, and carries compound engines.

A royal order has been published in the Madrid Gaceta authorising the payment of the lottery prizes which were drawn for in Manila, but the payment of which was suspended owing to the outbreak of the Spanish-American war. Four months are allowed within which payments on this account will be made, and the tickets must be sent in to the Government for examination; no mutilated tickets will be considered.

The Ko Shing Theatre is the rendezvous of all the shady characters on the calendar, who pretend to be deeply interested in the historic mysteries unfolding on the stage while they rob the bystanders. On Friday one of the latter had his pocket cut and a small sum of money extracted. He caught the thief, in whose possession when searched at No. 7 Police Station by Inspector MacNab was found a portion of a razor, keen of edge and handy of size for the slitting open of pockets. Inspector MacNab pressed the charge, and Mr. F. A. Hazeland passed sentence of three months' hard labour.

A notification by Mr. L. A. M. Johnston, Postmaster-General, appears in the Gazette, to the effect that from the 1st July next no chit-books accompanying letters sent by private messengers to be posted will be stamped or initiated at the General Post Office except in accordance with Government Notification No. 225; that is to say, the exact copy of the address of each letter for which a certificate is required must be entered in the chit-book and a postage stamp of the value of one cent for each letter attached. This does not apply to the receipt books accompanying sealed boxes sent by box-holders in accordance with paragraph 12 of the Postal Guide.

An interesting case came before the Assize Court in Saigon in May, when the director and manager of the Opinion were charged with the criminal libel. The action was brought at the instance of two guards of the Militia in French Laos, who had been gravely outraged in their honour and their consideration as officials by articles appearing in the Opinion. A Commissioner and these two guards were charged with assassination, oppression of the people, and acts of cruelty. The Commissioner died at an early stage in the enquiry which resulted from the allegations. The defence in the action in the Criminal Court was in effect an indictment of the whole administration of Laos, and the verdict of the Court was a complete acquittal of the accused.

A Canton correspondent who had not at the time of his writing seen the notice closing the correspondence on "Unconquered Scotland" sends the following story, which may be new to our readers:—In a train approaching Stirling an Englishman was giving his view on the climate, people, and prospects of Scotland in that sweet way which accounts so largely for the popularity of the "Englishman abroad." When he at length passed for breath, a dear old Scot sitting in the corner of the railway carriage broke in: "Ay, it's true that many Englishmen don't seem to care much for Scotland, but I've heard tell of 31,000 of them away back who took such a fancy to the country that they settled down for good in a place near here." "Ji!" replied the Englishman, with an incredulous snort. "Where, pray, was that? Never heard of the incident." "Just over there," said that very dear old Scot, pointing out of the window, "is the field of Bannockburn!"

A Hongkong resident describing a trip home by the Siberian railway, and referring to Russian emigration, says: "I stayed nearly the whole day in the station at Kharbin, and had plenty of opportunity to study the Russian emigrants who crowded every train. They were a strong, but frightfully filthy-looking lot. Some of the men looked like animals, and the women not better. It is, considering the awful dirtiness of the people, stations, and cars, no wonder that there was last summer a very serious outbreak of cholera in Eastern Siberia and Manchuria." Again the writer remarks: "I don't think one sees in any part of the world as many tea-kettles as in Russia; I myself was the happy proprietor of one and joined the Russians every morning in the scramble for hot water for tea—and I was perhaps the only one seeking water for washing purposes." We may remark that the Japanese are probably able to make as big a display of tea-kettles—or rather teapots—as the Russians; and those who have travelled by night on a Japanese railway will not soon forget the eager rush in the morning made by the Japanese passengers of all classes to the station fountain, each armed with face towel and tooth-brush.

The U.S. gunboat Callao arrived on Saturday from Wuchow.

According to a Northern despatch, H.E. Chang Chih-tung has been permitted to return to his former position of Viceroy of the Hukang provinces.

A considerable amount of correspondence and not a few articles have been provoked in Kobe and Yokohama over the 'Interport Four,' wherein Yokohama won after Kobe had been fouled by a fishing boat.

With regard to a letter which we have received over the signature of "Pau Callant," we fear that its publication would tend to revive the recent controversy, even if in a slightly more humorous form, and we must therefore decline its publication.

On the 15th inst. tenders for the supply of 33,806 tons of permanent way materials for the Royal Siamese State Railways were publicly opened. The lowest tender was from Belgium. British (9 tenders out of a total of 24), German, Russian, Italian, Hungarian, Dutch, and Japanese tenders were also received—but none from the United States.

We see, from the N.C. Daily News, that it was reported in Shanghai mandarin circles last week that a censor having denounced the officials in charge of the Peking-Pootung Railway as peculation and other misdemeanours, an Imperial Rescript has been sent to the Director-General of Railways, Shing Kung-pao, to investigate the charges. H.E. Ha Yu-fen is at the head of the Peking-Pootung Railway.

The Swallow correspondent of the N.C. Daily News writes:—"The French are making persistent attempts to secure an official foothold in Swatow. For some time past, the leading priest in the district, who resides at Chow-chow, has filled the post of Consular agent, and has dealt principally, but by no means exclusively, in church cases. Some time ago the French authorities failed to secure a house in town for (rumour said) a post office. Quite recently they have been unsuccessful in an attempt to induce a Chinese gentleman and British subject to part with his house for use as a Consulate."

It has been suggested that a Martyrs' Memorial Hall be built in Shanghai, writes the local Union, but opinion is divided on the subject. For ourselves, we cannot see the utility of such a Hall. If some missionaries and friends desire to commemorate the death of those who suffered during the Boxer troubles, let them put up tablets in several places of worship, and a monument in one of the cemeteries. Our feeling always has been to let the dead rest in peace. It is only earthly clay and corruption that is buried. The memory of the dead should be more vivid in the minds of people than an insubstantial brass or stone.

The P. & T. Times says that the failure of the Hung Bank in Peking has destroyed the credit of even the old established firms, and notes are now at an absolute discount, while prices are on a strong upward tendency, and the cost of daily living is said to be three times as high as formerly. An effort was made at the outset to bolster up the Hung failure by a reported loan from the Revenue Department of the 100,000 and the creditors were officially informed to stand off, as the bank "must not fail." It was Mr. Tung, however, who has endeavoured to negotiate a loan with the Japanese bank which originated the statement. But this is a polite fiction nevertheless, and does not affect the real facts of the case, which daily grow more serious. Hard cash is the demand in Peking just as much as in Tientsin, and hard cash cannot be had in adequate amounts, so there the matter stands.

PLAGUE ON THE "ESPIEGLE" AND "OCEAN."

Early on Friday morning H.M. gunboat Espergle (1,070 tons) was towed out to the quarantine anchorage off Green Island, a case of plague having occurred on board, the victim being James Collins, A.B.

It is rumoured in Naval circles that further cases of plague have developed on H.M.S. Ocean since her departure for Weihaiwei.

The six patients from the Ocean are being treated in the isolation ward at the Naval Hospital.

RACEHORSE KILLED.

Brigginshaw, a water belonging to Mr. Campbell Macmillan whose chancery an outsider drew numerous backers in the Maiden Stakes and Phœnix Stakes at the Races in February last, but who refused to leave the post when the former race started and was applied in the latter, came to an inglorious end on Friday afternoon last after a wild runaway gallop through Wanchai. He broke loose from his maffoo and tore centre-à-terre up one street and down another, upsetting first a Chinese woman and then a Chinaman, both of whom were rendered unconscious by the concussion; the latter, indeed, was removed to the Tang Wa Hospital very seriously hurt, but the woman soon came round. Brigginshaw's flight came to a sudden stop in Russell Street he fell and broke his leg, and had to be killed where he lay.

EFFECTS OF THE RAIN.

It is fortunate that the rains of the past few days have not been accompanied by a wind of any strength, or the history of fatal building collapses in the Colony might have repeated itself. As it is, numerous small landslips are reported by the police in various parts of the Colony, but no casualties, happily, resulted, although three people in Wanchai had a somewhat narrow escape. Loosened by the rain, the back wall of 32, Leighton Hill Road fell on ward and caused the roof to collapse on to the floor underneath. The three people in question had just previously vacated the flat on the warning of people from outside who saw the condition of the wall. The Harbour has been very much discoloured, evidently soil brought down from the hillsides through nullahs.

The Cricket Ground is flooded as is, of course, the Happy Valley also.

Queen's Road between Murray Barracks and the Soldiers' Club yesterday was in a very dangerous state, the mud being ankle-deep.

CANTON.

[FROM OUR CORRESPONDENT.]

Canton, 27th June.

THE NEW VICEROY.

On the 27th inst. the new Viceroy gave a splendid reception to the foreign Consuls-General, Consuls, and Vice-Consuls from Shanghai, in the Hoi Chi fort. By invitation from His Excellency the Consular authorities left Shanghai at 3 p.m. in a flower-boat towed by a steam launch, and were taken to the fort. On board the launch were soldiers in gay uniforms, and the passages of the fort were lined with guards of honour; upon the arrival of the Consuls and others a salute was fired from the fort, and they were introduced to the Viceroy, who was in a yellow jacket. They took their seats at a long table, and after a very pleasant conversation, having partaken of some refreshment, they left and were taken back in the same way to Shanghai. Shortly after the Consular authorities had left, the Viceroy started for Wuchow, and thence to Kwangsi to suppress the rebellion, taking with him several men-of-war, with troops and officers, and sixty junks fully laden with rice. It is generally believed by the Chinese here that he may succeed because it is a rebellion which has arisen from famine. In his absence the Provincial Treasurer will look after the official business. It is said that the Viceroy will have to stay away for two or three months.

CANTON TALK.

There have been various tales about the new Viceroy in Canton. It is said that he has cashed the Nam Hoi magistrature, imposed on him a fine of one million taels, and placed his conduct under investigation. Other officials are very much scared, and are afraid of the same fate. One evening when H.E. returned to the yamen the gate-keeper refused to open the gate until he paid him a squeeze of twenty cents; he paid him, and next morning had him given sixty blows. When he was walking out of his yamen he found two sentries at the door of the yamen asleep; he went and took from their persons two revolvers. Next morning he had the men brought into his yamen and put them under cage, while he cashed the commander of the guard. It is said that he intends to stop the fantasy gambling and put kuy-piu lottery, and also to take over the salt monopoly under official management. This should yield a revenue of five hundred thousand taels to the government.

EMBEZZLEMENT AND SUICIDE.

The fourth son of the late Viceroy Tak Sow has committed suicide by poison. The story runs thus. As soon as the officials in Canton heard that H.E. Sham Chun Hui was to be sent here to be Viceroy they did not much like it, so they formed themselves into a cabal, each contributing some money, tried to stop him coming. The money ran up to 120,000 taels. They entrusted this to the fourth son of the late Viceroy to take to Peking, there to buy the influence of the chief eunuch Li Lun Ying with the Empress Dowager. The young man (his age was thirty-four) took this money and spent it all in dissipation in Shanghai and sent word to the officials here that Sham Chun Hui was not coming—that he had bought the eunuch's influence, and that the Imperial government would send Sham to another province. The officials rested satisfied with these good tidings. But as soon as the word passed round official circles that the new Viceroy was coming they were much astonished, and represented the matter to the late Viceroy, who was one of the cabal too. The latter reprimanded him severely, and the young man took poison. Thus ended the tragedy, and the old Viceroy Tak Sow will have here in three or four days by the s.s. Kwangchi for Shanghai, thence to go to Peking.

THE LATE LO FENG-LU.

The N.C. Daily News publishes the following obituary of H. B. Sir Chieh Lu Feng-lu, K. V. O., late Chinese Minister to the Courts of S. James, the Quirinal, and Brussels. The late Minister was a member of the pioneer class of the Foochow Naval School when it was first established at Pagoda Anchorage in 1870, under the tutelage of the late Mr. James Carroll, a graduate of the Naval College at Greenwich. Being a particularly bright student, the late Minister, after a course of four years' study in Foochow, was selected with a few other fellow students to go to England to finish his studies, and being more of a bookworm than ambitious of a seafaring life, he entered the diplomatic service of his country and was appointed soon afterwards an attaché to the Chinese Legation at Berlin under the late Minister, Li Tan-ya. He remained in Germany for several years, subsequently returning to China and joining the service of the late Marquis Li Hong-chang at Tientsin in 1880. To the late Marquis, Lo Feng-lu owed all his advancement in official life, having joined Li as a sub-prefect (5th grade) and being successively promoted to the rank of expectant Totai of the First-class, with the brevet button of the second grade. In March 1890 Lo Feng-lu accompanied the late Marquis Li Hong-chang to St. Petersburg to congratulate the Tsar Nicholas II. on his coronation. The mission also visited England, where the late Marquis was decorated with the Grand Cross of the Victorian Order and Lo Feng-lu was made a K.C.V.O. Upon the return of Li Hong-chang's mission abroad, Lo Feng-lu, through the recommendation of his patron Li Hong-chang, was in November of the same year promoted to be an expectant Metropolitan officer of the 4th grade and appointed Minister to Great Britain, Italy and Belgium, where he remained until the winter of 1902, being prostrated during the latter period of his term of office with paralysis from which he never recovered. As already stated above, the late Minister was more of a student and bookworm than a diplomat, hence he did not especially shine in the latter sphere while in England.

EXTRAORDINARY GENERAL MEETING.

An extraordinary general meeting of shareholders in the above Company was held at 11 a.m. on Saturday at the offices of the general managers, Messrs. Shewan, Tomes & Co., for the purpose of considering the proposed resolutions. Hon. R. Shewan (chairman) presided, and the others present were Hon. Sir Paul Chater, C.M.G., Dr. Noble, and Messrs. D. E. Brown, L. Marston, J. H. Lewis, A. Reid, Pang Wa Chin, and L. Henderson (secretary).

The notice calling the meeting having been read, the CHAIRMAN proposed the first resolution as follows:—"That the capital of the Company be reduced from $300,000 (divided into 15,000 shares of $20 each) to $150,000 (divided into 15,000 shares of $10 each) and that such reduction be effected by reducing the nominal amount of all the shares in the Company's capital from $20 to $10 per share."

Dr. Noble seconded, and the motion was carried unanimously.

The CHAIRMAN next proposed:—"That after such reduction the capital of the Company be increased from $150,000 (divided into 15,000 shares of $10 each) to $300,000 (divided into 30,000 shares of $10 each) by the creation of 15,000 new shares of $10 each to be offered and if accepted to be allotted to the present shareholders of the Company in the ratio and proportion of one new share for every old share in the Company held by the respective shareholders thereof."

Mr. Brown seconded, and this motion was also carried unanimously.

The CHAIRMAN then proposed the third and last resolution, which was:—"That in consideration of the guarantees and undertakings now given by Messrs. Shewan, Tomes & Co. (the general managers of the Company) and testified by their signatures hereto (and to be further testified by the execution by the said Shewan, Tomes & Co. of a separate instrument of guarantee to be executed contemporaneously with the debenture trust deed or mortgage hereinafter referred to and to be held by the trustees thereof to be appointed as hereinafter mentioned) that the dividend for the years 1902, 1903, and 1904 in respect of the new shares referred to in the second of the preceding resolutions shall not fall below the rate of 6 per centum per annum in each and every one of the said three years, the said Shewan, Tomes & Co. as such general managers as aforesaid be and they hereby are authorised to issue debentures to the amount of not more than $200,000 on the property of the Company to be secured by a duly-executed mortgage thereof by the Company to such persons as trustees for and on behalf of the debenture holders as the said Shewan, Tomes & Co. may, by writing under their hand appoint. The said debentures to be issued in the shape of bonds for $1,000 or $100 each at the debenture holders' option respectively but so that the aggregate taken together shall not exceed the sum of $200,000. The bonds for and in respect of the said debentures may be issued at a discount not exceeding 2 per cent. on the face value thereof, but so that the holders respectively of such debentures shall not be entitled to be repaid more than the face value thereof. The debentures to bear interest at the rate of 8 per cent. per annum, to be computed from the date of actual issue to the respective holders thereof and to be repayable within 5 years from and after the date of such actual issue in manner following, that is to say, no portion of the amount paid in respect of any of such debentures shall be repayable during the first three years following the date of actual issue thereof but upon the expiration of such period of three years there shall be repaid in respect of each debenture to each and every holder thereof

(a) One quarter of the amount paid in respect thereof within six calendar months following the expiration of the said period of three years;

(b) One quarter of the amount paid in respect thereof within twelve calendar months following the expiration of the said period of three years;

(c) One quarter of the amount paid in respect thereof within eighteen calendar months following the expiration of the said period of three years; and

(d) One quarter of the amount paid in respect thereof within twenty-four calendar months following the expiration of the said period of three years."

Sir PAUL CHATER seconded, and the motion was carried, nem con.

This was all the business. A confirmatory meeting will be held on the 18th prox.

REVIEW.

The East of Asia, Vol. II, No. 1. Shanghai: North China Herald Office.

THE last number to hand of this always interesting quarterly magazine contains two descriptive articles fully illustrated from photographs—one "A Trip in Summer through the Yangtze Gorges" by Dr. G. F. Stokes, and the other "A Trip to the Hangchow Bore," by Mr. John Green. Mr. C. S. Leavenworth contributes a notice of the Hanoi Exposition, with some excellent illustrations. Mr. Otto's notes on Chinese festivals and their observance, illustrated from Chinese pictures, is a capital article.

Various other articles make up a number well up to the average. Pastor P. Kraus has a "rather remarkable discussion on the theme of 'Confucius and Christ, not Enemies but Friends,' at the conclusion of which he asks: 'Why should not the true Confucianists, with one might, determined rush forward, all become Christians, and thus co-operate in uniting our whole human race as one great family, worshipping the only true God, in heaven as their father, and loving and helping each other on earth as brethren?'" This is rather a large question, it must be admitted.

REPORT OF THE PRINCIPAL CIVIL MEDICAL OFFICER

The report of the Hon. Dr. J. M. Atkinson, Principal Civil Medical Officer, for 1902, is published in the Gazette. We make the following extracts:—

Police.—The admissions to the hospital were nearly the same as last year, the number being 938, as against 937 in 1901. The strength of the force was $81, as against $86 in 1901. There were 42 less Europeans, 42 less Indians, and 103 more Chinese admitted. There was a marked diminution in the number of malarial fever admissions, the figures being 176, as against 407 in 1901, a result due, in a great measure, to the more active anti-malarial measures carried on and to the more regular use of quinine as a prophylactic. There were only two deaths during the year, as against eight in 1901. One European died of heart disease and an Indian of phthisis. Twelve were invalided—three Europeans, six Indians, and two Chinese (sic). The causes were phthisis (four), bronchitis (two), epilepsy (two), rheumatism (two), malarial cachexia and deafness one each.

Troops.—There was a considerable increase in the number of admissions to hospital notwithstanding that the number of troops was somewhat less. The mortality was higher amongst the Europeans and much lower amongst the Indians than in the previous year. The average daily rate of sickness was less in both European and Indian troops. Amongst the deaths in 1902 (shown in table to be 38 in number) were ten from malarial fever, three from plague, two from dysentery and one from liver abscess.

Goal Staff.—Eighty-six members of the goal staff were admitted to the hospital during the year out of a total staff of 91. Three were invalided—two for rheumatism, and one for phthisis. There were no deaths.

Sanitary Department.—There was a large increase in the number of admissions during the year, the figures being sixty-four, as against thirty in 1901. This is accounted for by the increased number of men employed in the department, more particularly in rat extermination. There were four deaths—one foreman and a disinfecting coolie having died from cholera and two others from natural causes. No members of the staff were invalided.

Government Civil Hospital.—The total number of admissions to the hospital was the highest on record, 3,181 having been admitted during the year, as against 2,948 in 1901. The total number of out-patients attending the hospital was 11,815, as against 12,063 in 1901. There was a decided increase in the number of paying patients and Government servants admitted and a small diminution in the number of police cases and free patients. The rate of mortality for the year was 4.5 per cent., as against 5.18 in 1901. The average daily number of sick was 111.38 as against 111.72.

Women and Children.—The number admitted was 367 as against 281 in 1901 and 323 in 1900. This increase in the number of women and children shows the need of further accommodation. This will be supplied by the Victoria Hospital which is now rapidly approaching completion and will I trust be occupied this year.

Nationality. Europeans—956 were admitted during the year as against 1,226 in 1901. Indians—834 were admitted compared with 817 in 1901. Avarities (Chinese and Japanese)—1,315 were admitted during the year, as against 1,098 in 1901, an increase of 217. The majority of these must have been paying patients as there were fewer police cases and free patients treated than in the previous year. It is interesting to note that Asiatics are availing themselves more of the benefits offered by this institution.

Diseases.—The following diseases caused the greatest number of admissions:—Fever, 287; diseases of the respiratory system, 202; diseases of the nervous system, 122; dysentery, 74; beri-beri, 62; influenza, 97. The following diseases caused the greatest number of deaths:—diseases of the respiratory system, 22; cholera, 10; malarial fever, 9; enteric fever, 8; dysentery, 6.

Maternity Hospital.—There were 67 admissions as against 54 in 1901. There were no fatal cases. Nineteen were wives of government servants, 35 private paying and 13 free. Twenty-eight were Asiatics. A scheme was instituted in 1902 for training Chinese women to act as midwives. There are already two Chinese women undergoing this training.

Tung Wah Hospital.—The admissions were 413 less than in 1901, due to the smaller number of plague cases admitted. The proportion of these under European treatment is slightly larger than in 1901, the figures for the last three years being:—

European treatment Chinese treatment.
1900...31 per cent. 57.7 per cent.
1901...30.4 " 69.6 "
1902...31.9 " 68.1 "

Kennedy Town Hospital.—Two hundred and six patients were treated, 17 being cases of small-pox, 52 cholera, and 94 were admitted suffering from plague. The large increase in the number of cholera cases was due to the outbreak of the disease which occurred last spring and summer. There was a decided diminution in the number of cases of small-pox and plague as compared with the previous year.

Anti-malarial Measures.—These have been vigorously continued during the year in the Western district. Several of the nallahs here

COUNT TOLSTOI ON THE KISHINEFF OUTRAGES.

Copies of the following letter written by Count Leo Tolstoy to a correspondent who had asked for an expression of opinion on the Kishineff riots have been circulated in St. Petersburg.

"I have received your letter and have, indeed, received several of similar character. All the writers request me, just as you do, to express my opinion on the events at Kishineff. It seems that these appeals to me are based on a misunderstanding. It is supposed that my voice carries weight, and I am therefore begged to express my opinion on an event so important and so complicated in its origins as the crime committed at Kishineff. The misunderstanding consists in demanding from me the work of a publicist, whereas I occupy myself exclusively with a single definite question, having nothing in common with contemporary events—viz, the question of religion and its application in this life. To request from me public expression of my opinion on contemporary events is as unreasonable as it would be to demand such expression from any other specialist who makes use of contemporary events to illustrate his views. I cannot, like a publicist, even if I thought it would be useful, express my opinions on everything that occurs, no matter how important it may have been. If I did so I should have to speak hurriedly and without reflection, repeating what has been said by others, and then my opinions would cease to have the importance for the sake of which their expression is sought.

"As regards my views on the Jews and on the horrible doings at Kishineff, they ought, it would seem, to be clear to all who interest themselves in my conception of life. My attitude to the Jews cannot be other than as towards brothers whom I love, not because they are Jews, but because, like ourselves and everybody else, they are sons of the one God the Father. Such love needs no effort on my part, for I have met and known many excellent people among the Jews.

"My attitude towards the Kishineff outrage is likewise defined by my religion and my conception of life. Even before I knew all the horrible details which afterwards came to light, when I read the first accounts in the newspapers, I realised the full horror of what had occurred and was filled with a profound feeling of pity for the innocent victims of the barbarity of the mob, mingled with perplexity at the bestial ferocity of the pretended Christians and loathing and disgust towards the so-called educated people who stirred up the mob and sympathised with its doings. But what I felt most deeply was horror at the criminals who were really responsible for all that had occurred, horror at our Government, with their clergy, who keep the people in a state of ignorance and fanaticism, and with their bandit lords of officials. The outrages at Kishineff are but the direct result of that propaganda of falsehood and violence which our Government conducts with such tireless persistence. The attitude of our Government towards these events is only one more proof of their brutal egoism, which does not flinch from any measures, however cruel, when it is a question of suppressing a movement deemed dangerous to themselves and of their complete indifference (similar to the indifference of the Turkish Government towards the Armenian atrocities) towards the most terrible outrages which do not affect their interests.

"This is all that I can say with regard to the events at Kishineff, but it has all been said long ago by me. If you ask me what, in my opinion, the Jews ought to do, my answer is that case, as in others, is the logical outcome of that Christian teaching which I strive to understand and to follow. For the Jews, as for all men, one thing, and one thing only, is necessary for salvation; to follow as closely as may be the universal law, 'Do unto others as you would that others should do unto you.' They should fight the Government not by violence—that weapon should be left to the Government—but by virtuous living to the exclusion not only of all violence towards their neighbours, but of all participation in violence even when called upon by Government instruments of violence for their own advantage. Old and hackneyed as it is, that is all that I can say with regard to the horrible events at Kishineff.

"LEO. TOLSTOI, April 27 (May 10), 1903."

HONGKONG VOLUNTEER CORPS.

This report on the Hongkong Volunteer Corps for 1902 is published in the Gazette. Major-General Sir William J. Gassington in his covering letter to H.E. the Governor writes:—

It will be seen that there has been a falling off in numbers, but this was to be expected owing to the change in the composition of the Corps—a change which was naturally not acceptable to all former members. But I am thoroughly satisfied that the change was a wise one, Garrison Artillery and Engineers being the two units in the Garrison which require strengthening, and in which the assistance of Volunteers, well trained, is of the highest value. It speaks well for the commonsense and loyalty of the Corps generally that this change was so largely accepted, once it was made clear that it was in this respect that their services were most required. With regard to Major Pritchard's remarks in paragraph 37 as to the present difficulties in training the men so far distant from their Headquarters, I would inform Your Excellency that this had not escaped my observation, and that I am considering the feasibility of establishing a Drill Practice Battery at Scandal Point where both the Artillery and the Volunteers can receive practical instruction.

From Major C. G. Pritchard's report we make the following extracts:—

The total strength of the Corps is now 274 of all ranks as against 318 of all ranks in 1901. I attribute the falling off in numbers to the recent change in the Corps from Field, Machine Gun and Infantry Companies to Garrison Artillery. During the past season 1 member has died, 61 have resigned—33 in Colony and 28 on leaving the Colony—17 have been struck off as absent without leave. Thirty-five new members have been enrolled. During the past year the Corps has been re-organised as Garrison Artillery and Engineers, with actual strengths as under:—Staff, 6; No. 1 Garrison Artillery Company, 117; No. 2 Garrison Artillery Company, 116; Engineer Company, 29; and Band, 6 respectively, as compared with establishments of 7, 155, 155, 60 and 23 respectively.

The discipline of the Corps has been exceedingly good throughout the season. The usual squad, carbine, rifle and company drills have been performed and well attended. Musketry practice has been carried out during the season. Under the head of drills the figures are as follows:—

Those who have become efficient with more than 30 shells:—

No. 1 Company.	No. 2 Company.	Engineers.	Band.
45	56	15	6
less than 30.	33	7	...
38	33	7	...
Non-efficient.	34	27	7
Total.	117	117	29

Of the 68 non-efficients, 17 have been called upon to make good the loss to the Corps funds, i.e. $25 each, 4 have been excused owing to the nature of their employment, 2 will be struck off the strength as absent out of Colony without leave, 32 are absent (with leave, from the Colony), and 13 recruits have been unable to complete the necessary number of drills.

The difficulties in the way of training Volunteers here as Garrison Artillery are very great, and considering these and the short time that has elapsed since the change, I consider the progress made has been very good, but unless some arrangements can be made for drill guns near the Headquarters the numbers can never be kept up to the approved strength nor the efficiency be as good as could be wished.

At present any drill with heavy guns has to be done at one of the Forts in the District and for one hour's drill the men have to give up 2 to 3 hours to allow for proceeding to and from. This practically limits these drills to Saturday afternoon, and accounts for many of the men resigning as they cannot possibly give up the time. I understand there is a proposal that drill guns should be mounted at Scandal Point for the use of the R.G.A. and the Volunteers, and when these are mounted I hope to get more members and a much higher state of efficiency in the Corps; in fact without these guns I consider that it will be practically impossible to keep the present number together.

WEATHER REPORT.

The Hongkong Observatory yesterday issued the following report:—

The barometer has fallen at Vladivostok, risen over the E. coast of China and the Loo-Chooos.

Pressure is high over the E. coast of China and the S. part of the China Sea; and the area of the relatively low pressure still lies over the S. coast of China, the S. part of the Formosa Channel and the Pacific to the S. of the Loo-Chooos.

Fresh N.E. winds in the N. part of the Formosa Channel, and fresh S.W. monsoon over the N. part of the China Sea.

Forecast.—S.W. and variable winds, moderate; squally, thunder-storms.

SHARE REPORT.

Messrs. Erich Georg & Co. say in their weekly share list dated Hongkong, 27th June:—

Our market shows no sign of activity; the near approach of the June settlement and the still existing tightness of money, especially in the North, are restricting business, and with the exception of a sharp decline in Land Investments, there is little of interest to chronicle. The rates on Shanghai are 7½ for a T/T, and 7½ for a Three Days' Sight Private Paper.

BANKS.—Hongkong and Shanghai are quiet at 56½; the London rate is unchanged 263. 5/8. Nationals are slightly easier with no buyers over 527½.

MARINE INSURANCE SHARES.—Unions sold and have further sellers at $605; China Traders at $62½ and $61 and might be placed at the latter figure. Canton Insurance found buyers at $35 and are still in demand at this rate.

This transfer increases Revenue Account to £30,173 15s. 7d., from which a dividend of 5 per cent. free of income tax is declared, absorbing £14,784 11s. 6d. and leaving £15,389 5s. 7d. to be carried to new account. ## FISH-EATING AND LEPROSY.

Dr. Jonathan Hutchinson writes in the Times:—

It has been represented to me that a score as to fish might lead to inconvenience and loss in the trade, and to needless self-denial on the part of individuals. Let me say definitely that there is no risk whatever from sound fish, whether fresh or cured. The danger comes when decomposition commences.
No one need fear any kind of fish ordinarily supplied in the English market. Our fish-curers use good salt and plenty of it, and their products are adapted to keep good almost indefinitely. It is in hot climates where fish soon becomes tainted, or amongst communities where salt is dear, or where the flavor of decomposition is deliberately preferred that the risk of leprosy comes in. I would venture next to urge that the facts which I have brought forward are such as to impose a duty
upon the authorities of the Roman Catholic Church to reconsider their fast-day ordinances.
The fact seems to show conclusively that in all districts where leprosy occurs—in other words,
in all places where there is risk of obtaining unsound fish—the use of fish on fast-days ought to be forbidden. I have long ago and many times expressed the opinion that neither contagion nor the Crusades, but Christianity, was responsible for the prevalence of leprosy in Europe during the Middle Ages. It now appears that what occurred then is being repeated now in India and, it is to be feared, in many other parts of the world. Where Catholic missions are successful there is increase of leprosy. I shall be most glad to submit my facts and figures to the examination of any accredited person. They show that a convert from Hinduism to Roman Christianity incurs at once an enormously increased risk of becoming a leper. In most of the Indian asylums "Native Christians" abound, and by far the larger proportion are Catholics. Conversion to any of the Protestant sects incurs some risk, because it removes the prejudice to animal food which, to some extent, is natural to the Hindu mind, but conversion to a creed which imposes the use of fish on one or two days at least of every week increases that risk immensely.
My calculation is that the risk to a Catholic convert is twenty-fold that of one who remains in the Hindu faith. If I dare trust my figures —chiefly those of the last census—it may possibly in Bengal amount to ninety-fold. No one can be more willing than myself to admit that statistics are often fallacious, but the margin which may be here allowed for error is such that no doubt as to the general bearing of the facts can be felt.
Similar conditions are suggested whether we examine the statistics of Bengal, Bombay, Madras, or the Punjab. Respecting the Chota Nagpur district of Bengal, the census compiler writes:—"The great centre of Roman Catholic missionary enterprise in this province is Ranchi, where its converts exceed 54,000; or about three-fifths of the total number in the province." The increase during the last decennium was 15 per cent. Now it is in precisely this district that leprosy also has increased (from 4.5 to 5.8 per 10,000), whilst in all the adjacent districts it had diminished. A fallacy which may possibly to some extent diminish
the force of my estimates is that in some instances lepers who have been registered as "Christians" may have been converted subsequent to the development of their leprosy. I have no means of knowing whether or not this has been the case, to any large extent, and certainly it does not invalidate the records of the Bombay Asylum at which the expression
"Sissette Christian" means a descendant of those who were converted more than three centuries ago by St. Francis Xavier and his devoted colleagues. Most willingly do I bear my testimony to the temporal advantages which have accrued to these by their conversion; and it is because fish fast-days are not essential nor even important part of Christian ritual that I feel entitled to urge that they ought to be done away with.

It may not be out of place here to point out that this preponderance of the disease amongst Catholic converts gives the coup de grace to the belief in the contagiousness of leprosy. The Indian Jain, who is a vegetarian, almost absolutely escapes leprosy, the Catholic suffers fearfully. How is it possible that a disease which is spread by infection could pick out the members of one religious communion and leave another almost untouched? Such preferential incidence can be explained only on the supposition that it is due to some difference in habits,
and most probably in connection with food. The average incidence of leprosy in India as a whole is less than five per 10,000; but there are three local communities—Minais, Sissette Christian, and Kaliguan—in which it attains the frightful prevalence of 150, 50, and 500 per 10,000, and these are all places where the inhabitants live by fishing.

Next, Sir, let me entreat your powerful aid in the endeavour to secure the prompt and total abolition of the salt-tax throughout our Indian Empire. It would be difficult to devise any tax more injurious to the welfare of that vast community. Give the Hindu good and cheap salt and he will cure his fish well and render it a wholesome article of diet instead of a poison. No doubt but that the decrease in the prevalence of leprosy which has recently occurred in most parts of India has been largely due to the remission of this tax by an enlightened Government in the case of the large fish-curing establishments. What is now wanted is its total abolition, so that salt may be cheap in the home of the peasant and the fisherman.

It cannot be necessary to insist that the provision of leprosy is a work of far greater beneficence than is the mere provision for the care and comfort of the leper. That prevention on a very large scale is easily practicable by very simple measures I have done my best to demonstrate. It is obvious, however, that further enquiry is most desirable to confirm or otherwise the conclusions at which I have arrived. As yet the bacillus which causes the disease has never been actually found in fish.
Our evidence thus far is circumstantial only.
Such discovery would at once remove all doubt, and set in movement all the world over the agencies by which this ill disease may be prevented. Am I presumptuous in asking that our Government and also the benevolent public should interest themselves in the further prosecution of this enquiry? It is one needing both time and money, and it ought not to be any longer left wholly to private individuals. Not only in India but in South Africa, the West Indies, and many other of our colonies, the saving in money as well as the mitigation of human suffering would be immense if the leprosy question were once settled. Large sums are now benevolently devoted to asylums for lepers. My conviction is strong that one-tenth of the sums thus annually expended would, if devoted to discovery
of the cause, render these establishments unnecessary and save their cost for all time.
Whether such enquiry had better be undertaken
by Government or otherwise may be open to discussion.

GENERAL HECTOR MACDONALD.

The Manila Cable has published the following despatch from London:—
By mail from Ceylon the War Office has just received proofs of the innocence of Gen.
Sir Hector MacDonald. These have come in the shape of sworn testimony and affidavits of personal staff, servants, and persons who lived with the General and also, it is said, the confession of the woman who instigated the charges.
Whether the War Office will make these public and thus clear Sir Hector's memory is not yet decided. The charges against the General were that he was guilty of Turkish practices with boys. The feeling throughout Ceylon is entirely with MacDonald. Had he not taken too hasty a view of matters
he would have been cleared with honour at the court-martial. His memory is championed by all the papers. The Ceylon Standard contains a remarkable letter in vindication of Sir Hector.
The author claims that when the awful charge
hung over the General he should under no circumstances have been advised to quit the island. He should have been counselled to face the ordeal. "Ceylon as a whole," the writer says, "believes in Sir Hector's innocence, for Ceylon has had many opportunities of getting acquainted with Gen. MacDonald, his ways, and disposition. The correspondent of the Standard comments severely on the manner in which the scandal was made public, by the interpellation of the Governor in the Council, and the Ceylon native opinion takes the same view. "From all that leaked out," it says,
"we gather that some woman made an intemperate
complaint to the Governor, that secret investigation was held in regard to it, and that Sir Hector was persuaded to leave for England to rebut the charges or defend himself at any enquiry held in Ceylon, so that the very mistaken step he was induced to take by leaving for England must have prejudiced him seriously with the home authorities. Hence when he received the news of his trial by court-martial, as proclaimed
in the Ceylon Council Chamber, we can well understand how the fact of his leaving Ceylon without clearing or defending himself must have flashed upon him as a fatal mistake."
